On June 29, 2001, a joint application was filed by Qwest Corporation (Qwest) of Denver, Colorado, and Weblink Wireless (Weblink) of Dallas, Texas, seeking approval of the first amendment to their paging interconnection agreement. Notice of the application was published in The Daily Record, Omaha, Nebraska, on July 3, 2001. No protests were filed; therefore, this application is processed pursuant to the Commission's Rule of Modified Procedure.

Pursuant to Section 252(I) of the Telecommunications Act of 1996 (the Act), Weblink and Qwest entered into an interconnection agreement, which was approved by the Commission on March 14, 2000, in Application No. C-2239. In the current application, Qwest and Weblink seek to amend the original agreement to include the addition of Single Point of Presence (SPOP) in the LATA language. An executed copy of the amendment is contained within the application.

The amendment does not discriminate against any telecommunications carrier that is not a party to the agreement. Furthermore, the implementation of the amendment is consistent with the public interest, convenience and necessity.

Section 252(e) of the Act requires this Commission to review negotiated interconnection agreements to ensure they comply with Sections 251 and 252(d) of the Act, as well as all applicable state laws. Using those standards, the amendment filed June 29, 2001, should be approved.
